BACKGROUND INFORMATION

Board of Governors Regulation 6C-8.0101 is a rule that was originally adopted by the Board of Regents to create the Incentive/Efficiency Program (IEP). The IEP was designed to reward employees who identify and implement procedures or ideas that generate new revenue or eliminate or reduce expenditures without reducing the quality of essential services. At the time it was adopted the president of each university reported directly to the state level board and there was a more centralized personnel system that established job classifications and performed collective bargaining. Each university now has a Board of Trustees who is responsible for these activities and has the authority to implement incentive/efficiency strategies that are found to be appropriate for the university.
