BACKGROUND INFORMATION

The 2013 Florida Legislature enacted parameters for the establishment of an “institute for online learning” at a preeminent state research university in the State University System and directed the Board of Governors to “convene an advisory board to support the development of high quality, fully online baccalaureate degree programs at the university.” In 2013, the Advisory Board for UF Online approved the initial comprehensive plan for 2013-2019 for an institute for online learning at the University of Florida called UF Online.

At its October 17, 2018 meeting, the UF Online Advisory Board reviewed and approved a new comprehensive business plan for UF Online for 2019-2024.

At today’s meeting, UF Online Director Evie Cummings will review the business plan for UF Online for 2019-2024.
