

Distance Learning @ UNF

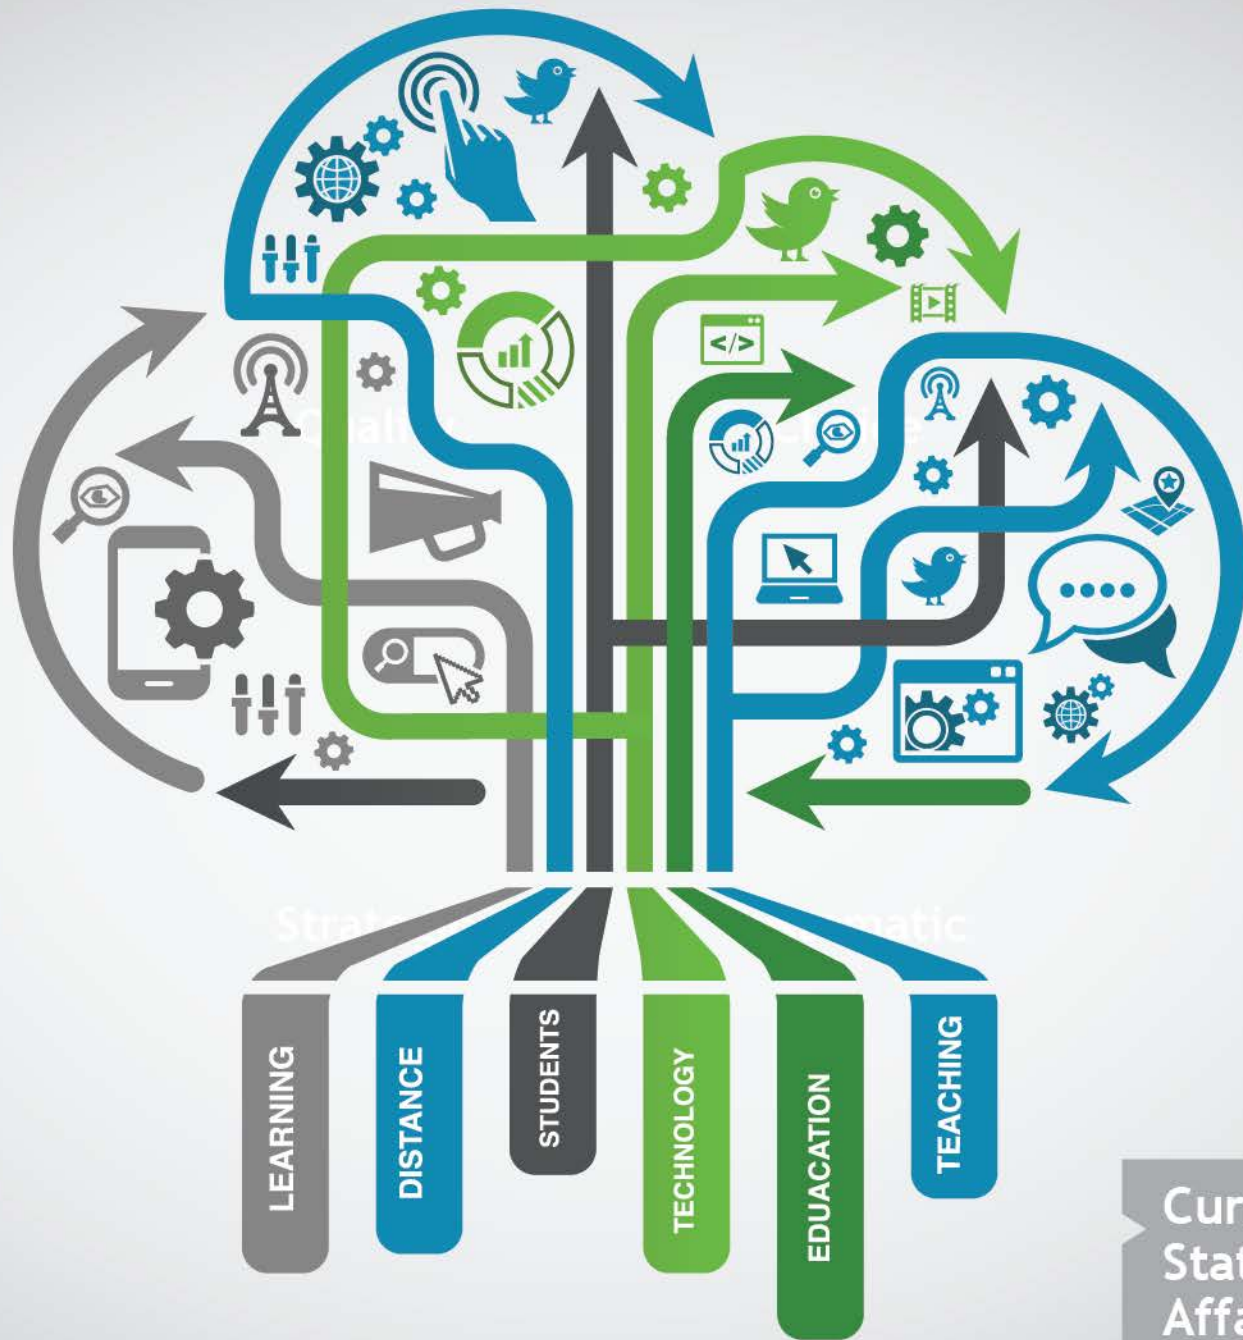

Presented to

The Innovation and Online Committee

Len Roberson

Associate Vice President of Academic Technology and Innovation

May 12, 2016

Current State of Affairs

Online@UNF

766
 online sections delivered at UNF in 2014-2015 through 816 classes

81%
 of the students taking online courses are very satisfied or generally satisfied with their DL courses

356 Faculty
 Trained via the Teaching OnLine
 (TOL) program

376
 unique online courses
 since Fall 2010

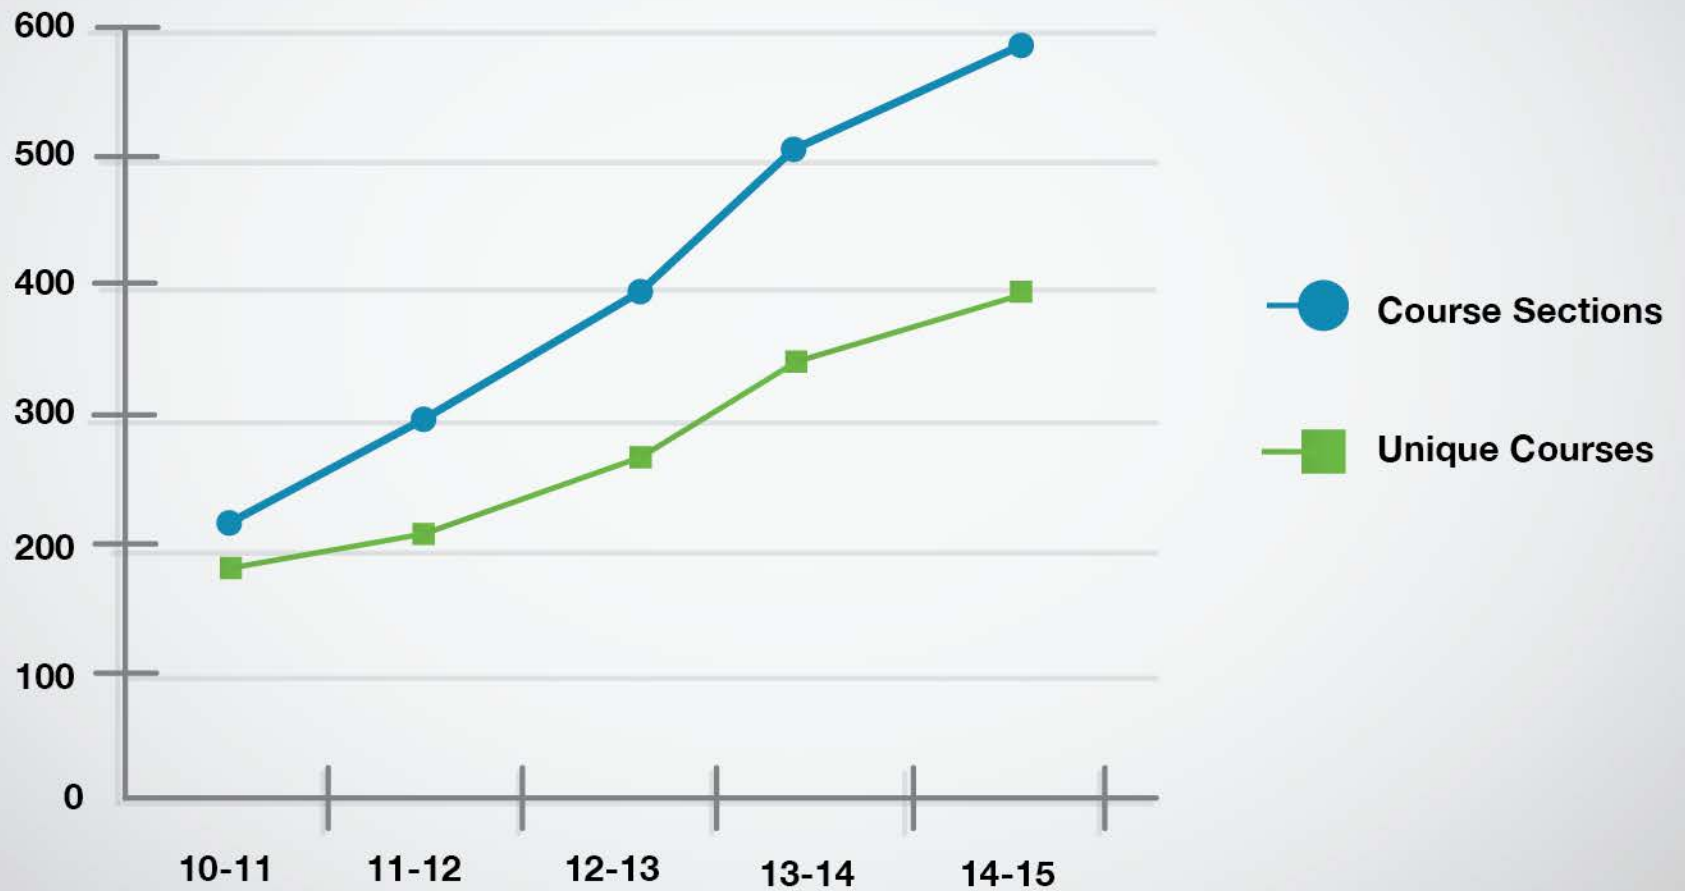

18,805
 "seats" were filled in online classes in 2014-2015

Distance Learning FTE

	Actual 10-12	Actual 14-15	Planned 18-19	Planned 21-22 undergraduate state fundable	411	1281	1874	2494
not state fundable	3	11	64	124
total	414	1292	1938	2618
graduate
state fundable	92	160	182	211
not state fundable	4	3	122	182
total	96	190	304	393

Blended Courses

➤ DL Affect on Facility Usage/Planning

► Unique Space Requirements

➤ DL Affect on Facility Usage/Planning

33%

FALL 2015

- 33% of the total population at UNF took at least 1 DL course

4%

- 4% of the total population at UNF took only DL courses

➤ Suggestions & Considerations

Recognize that growth in online education requires space and facilities.

Realize that technology and online education are changing how we view space.

New space concepts should be considered (e.g., study and meeting space, multi-purpose space, classroom redesigns)