INTRODUCTION

This is a new report that combines the previous Annual Accountability Report and University Work Plans into one new document that is more closely aligned with the Board of Governors' 2025 System Strategic Plan.

This revised document enhances the System's commitment to accountability and strategic planning by enabling comparisons between (previous and revised) goals and actual data to better assess performance. This reporting change will help foster greater coordination between institutional administrators, University Boards of Trustees and the Board of Governors.

Once an Accountability Plan is approved by each institution's respective Boards of Trustees, the Board of Governors will review and consider the plan for potential acceptance of 2016-17 components. Longer-term components will inform future agendas of the Board's Strategic Planning Committee. The Board's acceptance of an accountability plan does not constitute approval of any particular component, nor does it supersede any necessary approval processes that may be required for each component. This System Accountability Plan summarizes the data from each university's Accountability Plan. Interested stakeholders are encouraged to also review each university's Accountability Plan for important narrative information detailing key opportunities and initiatives in the coming years.

Performance Based Funding Metrics

The Performance Based Funding (PBF) Model includes 10 metrics that evaluate the institutions on a range of issues. The first eight metrics are the same for each institution, and the last two are institution-specific (one is chosen by the Board of Governors and one by each university Board of Trustees). For more information about the Performance Based Funding Model and the methodology used to calculate the data, see:

Notes: The 2012-13 Median Wage data is based on Florida only data. The Board approved a change for this metric that uses wage data from all states that participate in the Wage Record Interchange System 2 (known as "WRIS 2"). The System goals are mathematically derived from the university goals. The "Percent Change" row, in the goals section, compares the latest actual data with the planned out-year goal.

Note: This table reports costs based on resident undergraduate student tuition and fees, books and supplies as calculated by the College Board (which serves as a proxy until an alternative methodology is established), the average number of credit hours attempted by students who were admitted as FTIC and graduated with a bachelor's degree for programs that requires 120 credit hours, and financial aid (grants, scholarships and waivers) provided to resident undergraduate students. This data does not include unclassified students. The System goals are mathematically derived from the university goals. The "Percent Change" row, in the goals section, compares the latest actual data with the planned out-year goal.

FTIC includes 'early admits' students who were admitted as a degree-seeking student prior to high school graduation. The System goals are mathematically derived from the university goals. The "Percent Change" row, in the goals section, compares the latest actual data with the planned out-year goal.

Note: This table reports the number of baccalaureate degrees awarded within the programs designated by the Board of Governors as 'Programs of Strategic Emphasis'. A student who has multiple majors in the subset of targeted Classification of Instruction Program codes will be counted twice (i.e., double-majors are included). The System goals are mathematically derived from the university goals. The "Percent Change" row, in the goals section, compares the latest actual data with the planned out-year goal.

This table reports the percentage of baccalaureate degrees awarded within 110% of the credit hours required for a degree based on the Board of Governors Academic Program Inventory. Note*: In 2016-17, UCF and UNF improved their data collection for this metric and are therefore not eligible for improvement points this year. FAMU also improved their data collection for this metric, but were able to apply the improved methodology to the 2015-16 data retroactively.

Note: This table reports the number of years between the start date (using date of first entry) and the end date (using the last month in the term degree was granted) for a graduating class of first-time, single-major baccalaureates in 120 credit hour programs within a (Summer, Fall, Spring) year. Students who took longer than fifteen years are excluded from this analysis. Actual data are shown in the highlighted rows, and planned/projected goals are not highlighted. The System goals are mathematically derived from the university goals.

These tables report the counts of distinct baccalaureate and graduate degrees. In those cases where baccalaureate degrees are awarded under two different degree CIPs, a distinction is made between "dual degrees" and "dual majors." Dual degrees are counted as separate degrees (i.e., counted twice), and include those cases where the second major differs substantially from the first because either the college is different, the degree designation is different (e.g., BA, BS, BBA, BFA, etc.), or the degree CIP is in a different 2-digit range (e.g., 51* vs. 52*); in these cases, the second degree CIP receives a "degree fraction" of 1.0. If these conditions do not apply, the second major is considered a dual major, and the degree associated with it is not counted a second time; in these cases, each dual major degree CIP receives a degree fraction of .5 apiece. The calculation of degree fractions is made according to each institution's criteria. The System goals are mathematically derived from the university goals.

This table reports the age of the student at the time of enrollment (not upon entry). Age acts as a surrogate variable that captures a large, heterogeneous population of adult students who often have family and work responsibilities as well as other life circumstances that can interfere with successful completion of educational objectives. The System goals are mathematically derived from the university goals.

SCHOLARSHIP & RESEARCH METRICS

Through its research successes, the State University System plays a critical role in Florida’s economy, helping it achieve a national and global reputation for innovation. In brief, the System provides: (1) a highly educated workforce for high-skill, high-wage jobs and companies; (2) employs researchers who tackle some of the most significant challenges facing Florida, the nation, and the world; (3) produces intellectual property that can be commercialized through licenses and patents; (4) establishes partnerships with local and regional industries; (5) promotes the creation of start-up and spin-off companies; and, (6) attracts new employers to Florida.

Note: These two tables report the total expenditures for all research activities (including non-science and engineering activities) as reported in the National Science Foundation annual survey of Higher Education Research and Development (HERD). The percentage of research expenditures reports the amount of expenditures that were funded from federal, private industry and other (non-state and non-institutional) sources. From a state level perspective, 'state & local' funds are not considered "external" funds. The System goals are mathematically derived from the university goals.

Note: These tables report the Full-time Equivalent (FTE) which is a measure of all instructional activity (regardless of fundability) that is based on the number of credit hours that students enroll. FTE is based on the standard national definition, which divides undergraduate credit hours by 30 and graduate credit hours by 24. Pursuant to section 1013.31, Florida Statutes, Board facilities staff use this data as a key factor in the calculation of facility space needs for university educational plant surveys. The System goals are mathematically derived from the university goals. The "Percent Change" row, in the goals section, compares the latest actual data with the planned out-year goal.

Note: These tables report the percentages of FTE enrollment that is classified as Distance Learning for all students at all campuses regardless of funding source. Distance Learning is a course in which at least 80 percent of the direct instruction of the course is delivered using some form of technology when the student and instructor are separated by time or space, or both (per 1009.24(17), F.S.). The System goals are mathematically derived from the university goals. The "Percent Change" row, in the goals section, compares the latest actual data with the planned out-year goal.
