Overview

Accreditation is a process of external review used by the higher education community to assure quality & promote ongoing improvement. Accrediting agencies are private, non-profit organizations whose members are the colleges & universities themselves.

Accreditation enables:
- Credits from one accredited university to transfer to another accredited university
- Universities to use federal grant funds & federal student aid

Senate Bill 7044 requires Florida public postsecondary institutions to change accrediting agencies & requires the Board of Governors to determine the accrediting agencies best suited for the state universities by September 1, 2022.

This series of documents will cover essential background information about accreditation & review the following key areas across the six major accrediting agencies, listed below.

This document focuses on background information & governance.

- Higher Learning Commission (HLC)
- Middle States Commission on Higher Education (MSCHE)
- New England Commission of Higher Education (NECHE)
- Northwest Commission on Colleges & Universities (NWCCU)
- Southern Association of Colleges & Schools Commission on Colleges (SACSCOC)
- Western Association of Schools & Colleges Accrediting Commission for Senior Colleges & Universities (WSCUC or WASC)

Note: Information in this document was identified from publicly available sources. Research into the key areas is ongoing.
Florida public universities are accredited by the Southern Association of Colleges & Schools Commission on Colleges (SACSCOC), established in 1895. This accreditation status allows course credits from Florida public universities to transfer to other accredited universities, enables distribution of federal student aid funds to students, & permits access to federal grant funds.
Senate Bill 7044 establishes section 1008.47, Florida Statutes, Postsecondary Education Institution Accreditation, which requires the State University System & the Florida College System institutions to change accreditors.

Board of Governors
- The Board of Governors must identify the accrediting agencies best suited for the state universities by September 1, 2022

Public Postsecondary Institutions
- Florida's public postsecondary education institutions must do the following.
  - Not be accredited by the same accrediting agency for consecutive accreditation cycles
  - Obtain accreditation from an accrediting agency identified by the Board of Governors or State Board of Education, as applicable
  - Select a different accrediting agency following the next affirmation or fifth year review date*
  - Submit quarterly progress reports to the Board of Governors

Additional Information
- The new law provides a cause of action for an institution impacted by retaliatory action by the accreditor, including liquidated damages
- Law will sunset on December 31, 2032

Under certain circumstances, an institution may remain with its current agency.
Federal Requirements

Recognition of Accrediting Agencies

- Agencies recognized to accredit institutions by the U.S. Department of Education must follow certain criteria
  - Ensure they can provide a quality education
  - Help facilitate the smooth transfer of credits among colleges & universities
  - Promote confidence to private sector employers who hire their graduates
- Institutions accredited by recognized agencies may distribute federal student aid & be eligible for federal grants

Requirements for Agency Accreditation Standards

Agencies that accredit institutions must consider the following information when developing accreditation standards

- Student achievement
- Curricula
- Faculty
- Facilities, equipment, & supplies
- Fiscal & administrative capacity
- Student support services
- Recruiting & admissions practices
- Academic calendars, catalogs, publications, grading, & advertising
- Student complaints
- Program length*
- Degree or credential objectives*
- Compliance with program responsibilities under Title IV of the Higher Education Act
- Preaccreditation standards
  - Related to the accreditation standards
  - Five-year limit on preaccreditation status

Requirements for Agency Monitoring & Reevaluation of Accredited Institutions

Agencies that accredit institutions must monitor & reevaluate institutions, collect reports, & track institutional growth

- Reevaluate institutions regularly
- Monitor & evaluate to identify issues
- Collect periodic reports & key indicators of performance
  - Fiscal
  - Student achievement
  - Additional reports
- Monitor institutional growth
- Collect annual head-count enrollment data
- Monitor program growth at institutions experiencing significant enrollment growth

Requirements for Agency Internal Review of Accreditation Standards

Agencies that accredit institutions must internally review agency accreditation standards

- Comprehensive
- Occur at regular intervals or on an ongoing basis
- Examine standards separately & as a whole
- Involve all constituencies
- Allow meaningful input from constituents
- Before finalizing changes
  - Provide notice to relevant constituencies
  - Allow constituencies to comment
  - Review & respond to any comments

*This does not apply if none of the institutions the agency accredits participate in any Title IV Higher Education Act programs or if the agency only accredits programs within institutions accredited by a recognized institutional accrediting agency.

This does not apply if the institution does not participate in any Title IV Higher Education Act programs.
Accrediting Agency Types

National & Regional Accrediting Agencies

- The U.S. Department of Education (USDOE) currently recognizes both regional & national accrediting agencies as "institutional" accreditors
- Regional accreditors accredit institutions comparable to those in the State University System

Regional Accrediting Agencies

- Regional accrediting agencies historically served specific regions of the country
- As of July 2020, accreditors are allowed to approve institutions outside their traditional regional boundaries
- Most accrediting agencies require reaffirmation after 10 years

The Higher Learning Commission (HLC) is an independent corporation that was founded in 1895 as one of six regional institutional accreditors in the United States. HLC accredits degree-granting post-secondary educational institutions in the United States. In its institution directory, HLC lists members in 19 states: Arizona, Arkansas, Colorado, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Nebraska, New Mexico, North Dakota, Ohio, Oklahoma, South Dakota, West Virginia, Wisconsin, & Wyoming. HLC is governed by a 16-member Board of Trustees elected by the membership & administered by a president selected by & accountable to that Board.

Accelerated Process for Initial Accreditation

An institution may be eligible to seek accreditation with HLC through the Accelerated Process for Initial Accreditation if it meets certain requirements, including being currently accredited by a historically regional accrediting agency or a state entity recognized by the U.S. Department of Education as an institutional accreditor of degree-granting institutions of higher education. The institution must also have no history of being placed on sanction, show-cause order, or other similar negative action by its accreditor for at least the past 10 years, & must meet other requirements. The process allows the institution to apply for initial accreditation with HLC on an accelerated timeline, without serving a period of Candidacy.

Board members have the option to extend subsequent terms by two years
HLC accredits the following AAU Universities:

Overview

The Mid-Atlantic Region Commission on Higher Education, doing business as the Middle States Commission on Higher Education (MSCHE), was formally incorporated under Pennsylvania Commonwealth law in 2013. MSCHE conducts accreditation activities for institutions of higher education in Delaware, the District of Columbia, Maryland, New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania, Puerto Rico, the U.S. Virgin Islands, & any other geographic areas in which the Commission elects to conduct accrediting activities, including the evaluation of distance education & correspondence education programs offered at those institutions. MSCHE accredits institutions across the United States as well as globally.

The board (also known as the commission) consists of 28 members that conduct business in all states, except North Dakota, South Dakota, & Kentucky, Puerto Rico, the U.S. Virgin Islands, & the District of Columbia.

Currently, MSCHE accredits Ana G. Mendez University (AGMU), the largest private university in Puerto Rico, which has three locations in Orlando, Miami, & Tampa.

Overview

The Southern Association of Colleges & Schools Commission on Colleges (SACSCOC) accredits degree-granting institutions of higher education. SACSCOC serves as the regional body for accreditation in eleven southern states: Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, Louisiana, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, & Virginia. SACSCOC also accredits international institutions.

SACSCOC is comprised of four primary units with representatives from each state who perform certain functions for the agency: the College Delegate Assembly, the SACSCOC Board of Trustees, the Executive Council, the Committees on Compliance and Reports, & the Appeals Committee. The Board of Trustees has 79 members elected by the College Delegate Assembly, consisting primarily of administrators & faculty from member institutions & 11 public members from outside the academe.* The Board of Trustees implements the accreditation process. The Executive Council is the executive arm of the Board of Trustees, with 13 members, including one representative from each state, a public member, & the Chair. The Executive Council is primarily responsible for interpreting Commission policy & procedure.

*Information was obtained from the SACSCOC website. According to SACSCOC Standing Rules, the Board must consist of 33 individuals connected with institutions offering undergraduate & graduate programs or only graduate programs (2 from each state), 22 individuals connected with institutions offering only undergraduate programs (1 from each state), 10 academics connected or employed by a member institution in the geographical territory of SACSCOC, 1 individual representing international member institutions, & 11 individuals representing the public.

Overview

The WSCUC is a non-profit corporation that accredits over 200 public & private institutions & serves as the institutional accrediting agency for institutions that award the bachelor's or higher degrees.* The Commission’s historic region has consisted of the States of California & Hawaii, the territory of Guam, American Samoa, Federated States of Micronesia, the Republic of the Marshall Islands, Republic of Palau, the Commonwealth of the Northern Marianas Islands, & other areas of the Pacific as may apply to it for service.

The board (also known as the Commission) consists of 33 members serving 3-year terms. These members include institutional representatives such as presidents, provosts, deans, & faculty. In addition, the commission include public members such as educational effectiveness experts, former public officials, & people experienced in K-12 education. At large members of the commission allow for individuals who are not institutional representatives or public members to serve.

*Until 2012, WASC was a single organization with three units. In 2012, the different units separated into three separate organizations that continue to share the WASC acronym as part of their name: the Accrediting Commission for Schools (ACS WASC), the Accrediting Commission for Community & Junior Colleges (ACCJC), & the WASC Senior College & University Commission (WSCUC). These entities now use the same “WASC” acronym but are three separate 501(c)(3) organizations with independent scopes & governance structures.
WSCUC accredits the following AAU Universities:
