Welcome to Population Health for Health Executives

I am a Physician who is a graduate of the UNF MHA Program and have been teaching Medical Students, Residents, and UNF Students since 2011. This course will be an interactive and instructor-led course with regular assignments including required discussions. Case studies and group projects are a major portion of the learning experience. Please feel to contact me via email at any time if you need any assistance. I am also available to speak to you or meet you in person if required.
