State University System Foreign Countries of Concern Reports July 2023 – June 2024

Section 288.860, Florida Statutes, and Board of Governors Regulation 9.012, Foreign Influence, establish requirements regarding collaborations between Florida's public universities and foreign principals based in a foreign country of concern. The law and regulation require each institution's board of trustees in the State University System to submit an annual report to the Chancellor of the State University System of all agreements, partnerships, and contracts between the state university and foreign principals based in a foreign country of concern. Each institution's report is due to the Chancellor by September 30th and must address the following components.

- All instances of identified grant programs, agreements, partnerships, and contracts between the university and any foreign principal in a country of concern and the expected expiration or termination date.
- Any office, campus, or physical location used or maintained by the university in a foreign country of concern or with a foreign principal.

Universities without grant programs, agreements, partnerships, contracts, offices, campuses, or physical locations with foreign principals based in a foreign country of concern must complete a certification of compliance and affirm that they have nothing to report.

For the period of July 2023 through June 2024, Florida International University, Florida State University, University of Florida, and University of South Florida reported 140 agreements, partnerships, or contracts with foreign countries of concern but did not report any physical locations with those countries. Eight institutions reported that they had no grant programs, agreements, partnerships, contracts, campuses, or physical locations with foreign countries of concern.

Of the 140 reported agreements, partnerships, or contracts, universities terminated 77, allowed 47 to expire, and reported 16 still active. Of the 16 active agreements, six will expire by the end of 2024, six will expire in 2025, and four will expire between 2029 and 2035. The four that expire after 2025 are at the University of Florida, and the university is reviewing these agreements to determine if an earlier termination can occur. Three of these agreements are licensing agreements for a company to pay the University of Florida to use technology developed by researchers at the university. One agreement is for University of Florida researchers to use a material from a country of concern.

Table 1 summarizes the institutions' grant programs, agreements, partnerships, and contracts with foreign countries of concern. Table 2 provides a summary of all active agreements or contracts with countries of concern. Appendix A includes the master list of agreements, partnerships, or contracts with foreign countries of concern reported during the 2023-24 Fiscal Year.

¹FSU reported an active contract for the procurement of unique wiring required by the National High Magnetic Field Laboratory expiring on April 29th, 2025. FSU reported two active contracts for the procurement of a unique glass substrate required by a collaborative NSF project between FSU and Purdue University, expiring on November 20th, 2024, and January 9th, 2025, respectively.

²UF reported 9 active agreements and contracts. One agreement expires at the end of 2024. Two contracts and two agreements expire in 2025, including two confidential disclosures, a no-cost trial for medical equipment, and a citrus research agreement. Three contracts and one agreement expire beyond 2025. Three of these active contracts are for license revenue, where a company in China uses UF technology or intellectual property and provides payment to UF. The fourth agreement permits UF to use an imported biological substance for research purposes until 2035.

³USF reported active agreements and contracts with three institutions of higher education and one agricultural industrial company. USF reported that termination notices had been issued for all four agreements, and the contracts are in the required 90-day termination processing period.
